

Spatial Disparities and Convergence in Income and Well-being

CIMF Workshop

Winstanley Lecture Theatre, Trinity College, Cambridge
Friday, 11th May 2007

The Centre for International Macroeconomics and Finance (CIMF) and the Faculty of Economics are organising a one-day workshop on Friday, 11th May 2007, at Trinity College, Cambridge.

This workshop will bring together researchers and practitioners who are working on general aspects of income convergence and well-being, as well as the empirics of spatial and regional economic analysis. Work in this branch of economics has been particularly active of late and we are keen to explore the new directions this recent work has been taking.

Papers that will be presented are:

Andrew Clark	Inequality-Aversion and Income Mobility: A Direct Test	(Paris)
Andrew Oswald	Hypertension and Happiness across Nations	(Warwick)
Danny Quah	Life in unequal growing economies	(LSE)
Luisa Corrado	No Man is an Island : the Inter-personal Determinants of Regional Well-Being in Europe	(Cambridge)

Funding for this event has been provided by a Marie Curie Intra-European Fellowship Award from the European Community.

Organisers

Luisa Corrado
Sean Holly
Ron Martin
Melvyn Weeks

If you wish to attend please let Sharon Swann know, by Monday 30th April, 2007 as places are limited:

E-mail: sharon.swann@econ.cam.ac.uk
Tel: +44 1223 335246
Fax: +44 1223 335299